

Sat 10/08/2024 Hand-in for Annual Exhibition PDI's
Fri 16/08/2024 Annual Exhibition (the Quartet theme – Transport)
Sat 17/08/2024 Ditto

Our annual exhibition will run alongside that of the Lutterworth “Stitchers” in the Methodist Church. Together, the exhibitions will promote the undoubted creative talent within the town. There are three trophies at stake, the George Hunt trophy for the best PDI, the Ray Needham trophy for the best Print, and the Quartet for four a set of small prints on a chosen theme. For our part, the exhibition requires a big effort, to make the pictures, to put up and take down the displays and also to be on hand to talk to members of the public during the exhibition. I'm sure we will be up for it.

This is the premier print competition night in our calendar. There are four trophies to be won tonight and although it's not exactly a lottery, it is true that “you've got to be in it to win it” so, good luck. To enter the Cheyney Trophy comp. you'll need a set of six prints (any two of which must be monochrome). The entries must illustrate 3 topics of your choice, (two prints to each topic) and be designed to show competency across multiple fields of photography. In addition to the Cheyney Trophy comp, there are three single print competitions, one each for Colour, Mono and a recently taken Mono Landscape.

20/11/2024 Paul Fraser, Macro photographer & Buglife Ambassador (on ZOOM)

Tonight, Paul will be joining us from Callander, in Scotland. He is well known for getting up close and personal with tiny creatures. In his own words, "There's always another insect that you haven't seen that randomly appears. This is why I love macro-photography." I happen to know he produces a really impressive calendar from some of his best images - you could well see some of them tonight.
